most assuredly violated the law, and assumed authority in violation of the Constitution.

"By the law and regulations of the Navy, a commander of a war vessel is not obliged to obey the orders of a Minister or a Consul in a foreign country—although it may contemplate protection of the rights of American citizens. He must exercise his own discretion, and there are instances in the service where such orders have been disobeyed. In all such cases he is permitted to take the responsibility of his own conduct. Hence he is absolutely independent of a Minister or Consul. And this being the law of the United States, the President has no authority to take this discretion from him, and none whatever to require him to obey either a Minister or Consul. There is an express order among the regulations of the Navy which defines the duties of Naval officers in these words: They will not receive orders from either of this class of civil officers. If, consequently, the rumor here referred to is true, the President has onviously regarded himself as above both the Constitution and the law, and in so doing has assumed authority which the Queen of England would not dare to exercise."

As authority for his view, the ex-Secretary of the Navy quoted United States Navy Regulations, Section 18, regarding powers of commanders-in-chief: He will preserve, as far as possible, the mest cedial relations with the Ministers and Consuls of the United States on foreign stations, and will extend to them every official courtesy. He will duly consider such information as they may give him relating to the interests of the United States. But he will not receive orders from them, and he will be responsible atone to the Secretary of the Navy, in the first place, for his acts.

m. and he will be responsible alone to the Sceretary of Navy, in the first place, for his acts.

But in doing so he is to act "on his own But in doing so he is to act "en his own ibility" and "as he may judge to be expedient and " He is therefore independent in his action, and wise subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which will be a subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which will be a subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which will be a subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which we have the subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which are the subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which are the subordinate to the Minister or Consuls, which we will be a subordinate to the subordinate to the subordinate to the subordinate to the subordinate to t in no wise subordinate to the Minister of Consult, gardins is a wise and proper precaution against a rush or injudicious resort to force, entirely in accord with the policy of the United States and that provision of the Constitution which limits the war-making power to

OVERTHROW OF THE PROVISIONAL GOV-ERNMENT AN ACT OF GROSS INJUSTICE.

THE HAWAHAN REVOLUTION NOT WON BY THE AID OF UNITED STATES TROOPS, BUT A SPON-TANEOUS UPRISING OF THE PEOPLE.

Chicago, Nov. 17 .- Dr. F. R. Day, for the last six ears a resident in Honolulu, who formerly lived Chicago, is now visiting here. He represents the great American population of the islands, which, ugh outnumbered more than three to one by the natives, is the lifeblood of the nation.

"The Cleveland policy," said Mr. Day, "Is disappointing to those who have the real interest islands at heart. What the President and his Cabinet may consider an act of justice to the Queen is an act of gross injustice to the progress Queen is an act of gross injuries of the many of the islands and to the interests of the many thousands of loyal Americans who live there. The Americans represent the largest holdings of property of any nationality on the islands.

This revolution was won without the aid of tited States troops. Last January the American opps landed at the request of American citizens to protect their property in the struggle which seemed imminent. All nationalities joined hand in hand with the Americans to resent the action of the Queen, and there was a unanimity of sentiment among the white citizens of the kingdom. The troops were stationed in a public hall, and presence, in all probability, prevented blood-But their presence was by no means necesto the success of the revolution. "The true story of the abdication of the Queen and its direct cause is that the force of whites captured the Government building without resistance, proclaimed the abrogation of the Hawaiian monarchy, and established a Provisional Government. All the diplomats of all the Governments except Great Britain immediately recognized the Provisional Government. The Queen was compelled to abdicate. Forty-eight hours after the proclamation of the Provisional Government Great Britain gave its recognition. Mr. Dole, who has served since its establishment as the President of the new Government, was born in Hawaii, and has lived there all his life. His parents were American missionaries. He was a Judge of the Supreme Court of the monarchy."

WAITING FOR THE AUSTRALIA. SHE IS EXPECTED AT SAN FRANCISCO THIS FORE-

NOON-INSTRUCTIONS, BUT NO ARMS, ON THE MONOWAL.

San Francisco, Nov. 17 (Special).-Important cipher dispatches from Secretary Gresham to Minister Willis were received here this morning, and, with official letters to the Hawaiian Minister, were pleced on board the steamer Monowal, which sailed this afternoon for Honolulu. So far as could be learned, the Monowai carried no arms for the Provisional Government, nor would local dealers admit that any guns had been shipped on other admit that any guns had been shipped on other steamers.

Much excited correspondence has been going on to-day between the Washington authorities and the Mare Island commandant, and long cipher messages to Captain Howison were transmitted, and it is learned from the Navy Yard that some of them referred to a plan to keep the Australia outside the Golden Gate, and permit the delivery to-night only of Government dispatches. It is known that the Australia's captain had orders to "rush things" on his return voyage, so that the steamer was expected to-night before midnight. The heavy north wind, however, will delay her, and old sailors declare she cannot reach port before to-morrow foreneon.

TO RESIST TO THE DEATH. LETTERS FROM HONOLULU DECLARE THAT LILIUOKALANI WILL BE KILLED IF RE-

STORED TO THE THRONE. San Francisco, Nov. 17.-Private letters received here from Honolulu by the last mail indicate that trouble was expected there. One written by a lead-ing merchant to a well-known San Franciscan was shown to-day, on condition that no names be pub-lished. The letter declared that if the Queen is restored she will be a dead woman in twenty-four hours. It further says that Hawaii would have no monarchy; that neither the ex-Queen nor Princess Kaiulani would be allowed to reign; that the supporters of the Provisional Government would fight and face death, if need be, rather than submit to the restoration of the monarchy. Another letter is of a like tenor. It breathes a spirit of determination to resist the Administration's policy to the last, and to fight to the death in defence of good government. The recipient of these letters, who is thoroughly informed regarding Hawaiian affairs and disposed to take a conservative view of things, says that they unquestionably reflect public senti-

WILL NOT RETURN TO THE OLD ORDER. Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Nov. 17 .- W. W. Waterhouse, of this city, who with his father has large commercial interests in the Hawaiian Islands, yes-terday received a letter from W. O. Smith, Attor-ney-General of the Provisional Government. The letter is of considerable length and deals exhaus-tively with all the questions regarding the restoraof Liliuokalani. Mr. Waterhouse says: "This letter being received before Minister Willis's ar-rival at the islands gives it peculiar significance and shows clearly the sentiment prevailing there."
The following is an extract from Mr. Smith's let-

While all are waiting and a few of the supporters of the Provisional Government are restless there is a deep and abiding sentiment against returning to a monarchy and a determination to maintain good government that will not be suppressed and which will show itself in armed resistance whenever occasion calls for it. As the time passes the overwhelming portion of the intelligent element of the community manifests more and more clearly that it will not submit to a return of the old order of things.

The second and last day's session of the meeting of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Affician Mechanical Engineers, No. 12 West Thirty-first-st., yesterday, with President Clement A. Griscom in the chair. The paper of Lieutenant Albert Niblock, U. S. N., "Coal Bunkers and Coaling Ships," which was read Thursday, was again taken up and discussed. The next paper was that on "Steel Ships of the United States Navy." Mr. Wilson took up each class of vessel in the new Navy in detail and discussed it at length. After discussing the immediate future of the development of the national policy of liberal naval construction, Mr. Wilson said: "When it is remembered that all but four of the new steel ships have been built by contract, the aid rendered the country by private shipbuilders will be appreciated and higher praise as to the thoroughness of their work cannot be given than the fact that in no case has the contract speed of any vessel failed on

Mr. Melville suggests that the Government build a number of vessels to be used as "peace cruisers," to be laid up in time of war. Their duty should be, he said, to travel around and show the American flag, and look after the interests of American citizens. He proposes that vessels of this type should be of 2,500 tons displacement, 1,500 horse-power engines, and a speed of about thirteen knots an hour.

An the afternoon session the first paper read was that of Colonel Edwin A. Stevens, "Some Thoughts on the Design of New-York Ferryboats." One of the most interesting papers of the sessions was that of William Gardner, a naval architect and expert in yachting matters, "The Steam Yacht as a Naval Auxiliary in Time of War." Mr. Gardner's paper will be printed and distributed among the members of the society and discussed by correspondence, Discussing sudden needs in time of war. Mr. Gardner said:

"The weakest branch of our naval service at the present time is unquestionably the torpedo-boat division. We have only two in service, with a third about completed. We have an extremely long line of coast to defend, and for the purpose need a large fleet of torpedo boats, or boats available for the purpose, a very economical way of acquiring such a fleet would be for the Government to make it an inducement for men to build yachts adapted to this purpose."

The other papers read were "The Development of the purpose."

MORE "INJUSTICE" TO DR. MARY WALKER.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE DENIED.

Plymouth, N. H., Nov. 17 .- Dr. Mary E. Walker, went to the courthouse this morning, where the Supreme Court for the Eastern Judicial District of Grafton County is in session, took a seat with the members of the bar, and wrote the following petition to the Court, which she presented to Judge

To His Honor, Justice A. P. Carpenter.

Dear Sir: The undersigned respectfully requests your honor to recall the Grand Jury that she, according to common law, way have her right to go before that body to state grievances that have been dealed her in consequences of threats, and to such extent that she was not safe in the State of New-Hampshire for over one and a half years, and in the post six months has sought in vain for such privilege and right as she now was. She is not half years, and in the past six months has sought in vain for such privilege and right as she now wasts. She is not now enthely safe in this or any other State, because of men being at large who have attempted to take her life. As it is usual for the Guand Jury to be within call during the entire season of the court, it must be in your hower to recall them, and I most respectfully request Your Honor to do so that there may be no longer delay in giving a full and fair opportunity for the undersigned to start on the legal road to have wrongs redressed. Very respectfully, MARY E. WALKER, M. D.

Judge Carpenter gave the clerk the motion to place on file, stating, however, that it would be denied, as it requested something that was never granted in this State except under extraordinary of requirements.

Dr. Walker asked the Judge if he did not think that the circumstances were extraordinary, and if it would not be unjust to a daughter of his to deny that request under the circumstances.

Judge Carpenter replied in the negative to both questions, and after inquiring when the Grand Jury would again be in session, and being informed that they would come together in the latter part of March, the doctor subsided.

Edwin Gould last night said that he had denied the story before and could do nothing but deny it again. Mr. Woodruff refused to say anything about it

Mr. Woodruff was under engagement to Charles Frohman, and it is reported that he has recently resigned his position. He was formerly a member of A. M. Palmer's stock company at the Madison Square Theatre. He played in "Jim, the Penman," "Captain Swift," "A Pair of Spectacles," "Albhama" and, indeed, almost all of the plays produced at the Madison Square at that period. He remained with the company when it went to Palmer's Theatre, and finally left it only a short time ago. He is a member of the Lambs.

TO REORGANIZE THE PARTY.

CITY REPUBLICANS FAVOR SPEEDY ACTION.

THEY HOPE THAT THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF TREACHERY WILL GO TO WORK AT ONCE.

The question of a reorganization of the Reput lican party in this county now rests with the committee which was appointed at the stormy meeting of the Republican County Committee on Thursday This committee is composed of the representative Republicans of the city, and whatever it does will be accepted by the great built of the Re publican party of New-York as for the best interests of the party. The committee was appointed to investigate the charges of fraud and treachery which have been made against certain district leaders, and to report to the County Committee, if it is thought desirable, a plan for a reorganization of the County Committee. The investigating com-mittee is composed as follows:

Cornelius N. Bibs, Horace Porter, J. Harsen Rhoades, George W. Lyon, Elihu Root, William Brookfield, William Strauss, William L. Strong, Anson G. McCook, Samuel Thomas, Lispenard Stewart, Joseph H. Choate, Horace Russell, Edward Lauterbach, James A. Blanchard, George the happiest vein. Chairman Winslow, the first speaker, described the methods of the campaign in a T. Collis, James S. Lehmaier, George J. Senbury, Daniel G. Rollins, S. V. R. Cruger, Charles S. Smith, Jesse Seligman, Hiram Merritt, Charles A. Flammer, Myer S. Isaacs, Ernest Hall and Edwin Einstein

Among those members of the committee who could be seen yesterday and among Republicans generally the sentiment that there should be an Immediate reorganization of the party in this city prevailed. It is the feeling throughout the entire city that everything possible should be done to gain the confidence of the Republican and the independent voters in this city as well as through-State. The feeling is that the reorganizathe committee are in favor of an immediate meeting, at which the charges which have already been preferred shall be inquired into and that a report should be prepared as speedily as possible. Under the regular order of things there will not be a meeting of the County Committee until long after the primaries are held. They will be held on December 12. It is possible to secure another meeting of the County Committee until long after the primaries are held. They will be held on December 12. It is possible to secure another meeting of the County Committee before that time it the committee on reorganization performs its work promptly. There is plenty of time to hold the investigation and to report a plan of reorganization which will be satisfactory to all of the Republicans in this city who really desire the good of their party. A meeting of the County Committee can be called for the first week in December and the plan of reorganization put before those who will vote at the primaries.

Among those members of the committee who expressed sentiments in favor of an immediate meeting of the committee and speedy action on the lines of a reorganization are ex-Judge Ernest Hall, Edward Lauterback, Edwin Elinstein, Elihu Root, Myer S. Isanes, James A. Blanchard, James S. Lehmaier, Colonel S. V. R. Cruger and Colonel George Bilss. Each one of these men had practically the same thing to say and that was that a reorganization was needed immediately and needed baddly.

A TALK WITH WARNER MILLER.

HIS VIEWS ON THE NICARAGUA CANAL AND THE NEXT PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 17.—"The Evening Times" devotes two columns to an interview with Warner Miller. In reply to a question regarding the truth of the report that he had resigned the office of president of the Nicaragua Canal Company, Mr. Miller said:

for the present with the company. The idea of the present stockholders is to form a new company and have in it those of the old one who are willing to remain in. When the money market omes more active I do not anticipate that there will be any trouble in securing the necessary capital to continue the canal."

The work on the canal will not be abandoned,

"No. It is the intention of the projectors to go on with the canal as soon as enough capital stock is taken in the company."
"Are you of the opinion that the Government ought to give some encouragement to the project?"
"I am. If the Government would come to the assistance of the officers of the company, and encourage the scheme, the canal would not long remain unfinished."

When asked who, in his opinion, would be the candidate for President on the Republican ticket in 1895, he replied:
"If the convention were to be held to-morrow, McKinley would be nominated unanimously, and would be elected. He is the logical candidate at present, and will continue to be such until 1896, if the Democratic party makes the tariff the issue, and it now looks as if it would. If it is the issue, in 1895, Governor McKinley will still be the logical candidate of his party, and i see no reason why he should not be nominated."
"If Governor McKinley is a candidate for the nomination in 1896, will the New-York delegation in the convention support and vote for him?"

"I think so, I see no reason why they should not. In my opinion, the New-York delegation will be for McKinley."

ROBBED AT THE POINT OF THE REVOLVER

MASKED BURGLARS THREATEN TO BLOW OFF THE HEADS OF TWO GIRLS UNLESS THEY TELL WHERE THEIR MONEY IS.

The family of James Huston, living in Hall-st. Newtown, had an adventure with masked burglars Thursday night. The family consists of the hus band, wife and two daughters. The family had retired about 10 o'clock. An hour afterward two masked men entered a window and made their way to the room of Miss Jennie and Miss Mary Huston One of the girls was awakened by some one about the room. She looked up and saw a man ran acking a bureau drawer. She thought it was he father and asked him what he was looking for. With that one of the burglars approached the bed and pointing a revolver at the head of the young woman told her that if she made any noise he would shoot her. One of the men sat on the edge of the bed guarding the two girls while the other earched for property. Finding nothing, the second burglar approached the bed, and pointing his revolver at the two frightened girls, told them that they would have five minutes to tell where the money was, or their heads would be blown off. Miss Mary told them that they had no money. The robber again searched the room and found $15 and a silver watch in a washstand drawer. The two burglars then told the girls that if they called for help when they left the house they would return and kill them. As soon as the burglars escaped the girls went to their father's room, which was next to their own, and told him what had happened. Nothing could be seen of the thieves. The girls describe them as wearing black masks over their faces. One of them was tall, and the other small and
